As for Savage, if he really injured his shoulder to such an extent that he couldn't do his best work in the ring it would have been an imposition upon the spectators to have him box with Weineri at all. He was entirely justified in declining to go on with the bout. It should be up to Savage to prove that he had an injured shoulder. If investigation showed that he was fit to fight there would be a good reason for punishing him for avoiding the bout at the last moment. A suspension would about fit that case.

BOXING COMMISSION TO MEET TO-MORROW TO REVISE RULES

The State Athletic Commission will hold an important meeting is The State Athletic Commission will hold an important meeting in this city to-merrow and Saturday. The full commission, consisting of Megers. Wenck, Francy and Dwyer, will be on hand. Several important revisions are to be made in the rules. For instance, ringside weighing in will be done away with. Instead the star boxers will be compelled to go on the scales six hours before boxing. This will necessitate a new scale of weights. Wenck suggests that in bouts requiring the men to weigh in at class limits, they tip the beam two pounds under the limit in order that they might not be overweight when they enter the ring. The class limits Wenck suggests follow: Bantamweight, 118 pounds; featherweight, 124 pounds; lightweight, 135 pounds; welterweight, pounds; middleweight, 160 pounds; light-heavyweight, 175 pounds; heavyweight, over 175 pounds.

WHITMAN HAS NOT STOPPED LICENSES FOR ARMORY BOUTS

Boxing Commission Has Received no Instructions From Governor on Subject.

Chairman Frederick A. Wenck and Commissioner Frank Dwyer of the State Athletic Commission said today that no word has been received from Gov. Whitman directing that the issuing of licenses for boxing in armories be stopped. The only oposition has come from some clergy-

To-day the Commission is preparing a brief with the aid of Deputy Attorney General Leonard J. Obermeter explaining the reasons why it is deemed expedient to permit boxing in the armories. This will go to Albany this afternoon

The Commissioners feel that boxing is a healthful sport and that the armories are ideal places in which to ments of the city to hold matches.

A meeting of pro-test in this matter was held only a few days ago at the Baptist Church on the Heights. Those protesting against the plan were residents of that district. "Gov. Whitman instructed me to make inquiries about the matter, and I summoned Col. Lucas of the Twen-ty-second. He explained to me that no prize fight was scheduled for to-ty-second. He explained to me that no prize fight was scheduled for tomorrow at the armory, as had been alleged in the protests. Furthermore, that none was scheduled for any other date. The protest appears to have been founded on misinformation."

"Has any protest been lodged in regard to boxing exhibitions at the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, or any other armory?" was asked.

"I know of none," said the Major General, "but I presume such a matter would be taken up the same as in the case of the Twenty-second. If the Governor is opposed to bouts between professionals in the armories you can be sure that his wishes will be carried out to the letter, but I cannot say what his ideas may be. To date I have heard nothing except in regard to the protest from Washington Heights."
